

Clothing & iPhone Donation Guidelines

Thank you so much for considering donating to Haiti. We appreciate you and your heart to help the people of Haiti.

As we serve the needy in a very tangible way, we want to be mindful that we are serving with intentional, compassionate and generous hearts. Here are some guidelines that will help you determine what to give and how to give most effectively!

What to donate and what not to donate

Please DO give:

- Clothing that is washed & clean
- Clothing that is folded
- Clothing that is sorted and labeled by gender and age
- Clothing that is Haiti appropriate (no winter clothes – it's a tropical climate year round)
- iPhones that are model 5 and newer in working condition (cracked screen is ok if the phone still works and is accompanied by a donation of $75 or more)

This may be different than what you expected, but these clothes are gifts given to people with dignity, or sold as part of a business. They should be in a condition worthy of being received as a gift or acceptable to be sold. We do not operate a "second-hand store."

Please do NOT give:

- Clothing that has stains, have holes, that need to be washed
- Underwear or other undergarments unless they are new in their package
- Items that are not clothes (no toys, no baby items) except iPhones

CONSIDER THE DIFFERENCE: Is the clothing out-grown OR worn out?
(If it's worn out, do not donate it / if it's outgrown, it may still be in good condition)

Please include a donation of $10 or more to defray the costs of shipping & handling, payable to Chanje.

What are the current needs?

- Women's business or dress clothes (tops and bottoms) but not casual wear
- Children's clothing (ages 5-12)
- New Crocs, new sneakers, new or gently used girls leather flats
- iPhones (models 5 and newer)
